VILKINS BROS. SCORE POINT IN EXCHANGE SUIT

llowed To Settle On Gold $280,000 At Present High Rate

U. S. COURT FOR CHINA

dge Lobingier Rules Firm Need Not Await Outcome Of Action

An order granting the motion the defendant in the pending tion, Ring Mow Zu et al versus ilkins Bros., which asked that e defendant be allowed to settle change on a sum of G.$280,000 the present rate of exchange ather than wait the judgement the pending suit, was issued ednesday in the United States ourt for China by Judge C. S. obingier.

The order after reciting the otion, the original petition and e answer, held that inasmuch both parties to the suit agreed to the purchase of the sum of old, for delivery on the date mened, the sole issue seemed to e in regard to the plantiff's averent that the defendant made ch purchase "as agent and rustee of" one of the plaintiffs. his averment was denied, and as e burden rests on the plaintiffs prove it the Court could not ssume it to be true for the purose of the motion.

But it could assume and act pon the admitted fact, the order ontinues, that the defendant ade purchase for delivery on a ertain date at a specified rate of xchange, with the intention of fter fixing the rate for repayent.

Judge Lobingier took judicial otice of the fact that the presnt is a much more favorable ime to dispose of United States urrency than was November, 919, or any other time for several years past. Hence, the order tates, if the purpose of the moion is to settle the rate of exhange in order to effect repayment, it would seem to be for he interest of both parties. If he defendant is the only party nterested in the contract clearly t will profit by the more favorble rate of exchange, and if, on he other hand, one of the plainiffs is also interested it will derive the same benefit upon eslablishing its alleged interest.

The action taken in the order, Judge Lobingier stated, was necessary, in view of a stipulation recently effected between the two sides to the suit, which provides for the continuance of the cause until disposition of another action. It may be considerable time before this action is disposed of and the present favorable rate of exchange may not continue.

Therefore, Judge Lobingier concludes, the motion is granted on the condition that the proceeds of the settling of exchange be deposited as recited (kept on deposit with the American Express Company, one of the plaintiffs, at Shanghai, pending judgement in this action).

J. H. de Reus Dies Suddenly—Long In Country's Service

Jacob Hendrik de Reus, K. N. L., consul-general for the Netherlands died yesterday, at his residence, No. 17 Route des Soeurs, after a sudden attack of illness on Wednesday, following a prolonged failing of health. Two medical men were called immediately upon his seizure of Wednesday but the patient could not recover. The funeral will be held this afternoon at the Bubbling Well cemetery.

In honor to the deceased consul-general the Dutch banks, and many Dutch business houses will close their doors today. Mr. de Reus' death also will be felt by a large number of friends of other nationalities, which he has made during the years he has spent in Shanghai.

Born in Dordrecht on March 2, 1866, Mr. de Reus entered the Dutch consular service twenty years later as a cadet consul. During the past 35 years he has served at Buenos Aires, Constantinople, Hamburg, Yokohama, Kobe, Venezuela, Colombia, Panama, Hongkong and Shanghai.

JURY IN IRISH MURDER TRIAL GETS WARNING

Seven Threatened In Event Of "Certain Verdict" Being Returned

SINN FEIN IN NEW MOVE

Proclamation Forbids All Persons From Leaving Ireland Without Permit

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 20.—The inquest on the body of Mr. Vincent Fovargue, who was found shot dead on the Ashford golf links on April 4, with a note pinned to the body bearing the inscription: "Let spies and traitors beware," has failed to solve the mystery of who murdered him, despite the greatest efforts on the part of the police to solve the crime. The theory is that the crime was committed by Sinn Feiners, the victim being shot after leaving a dance in Fulham and the body conveyed to the Ashford golf links in a motor car.

A sinister feature of the inquest was that seven jurymen received letters threatening that there would be bereavements in their families if a certain verdict were returned.

The verdict was: "Murdered by a person unknown."

London, April 20.—The Sinn Fein authorities have issued a proclamation forbidding citizens of the "Irish Republic" to leave Ireland without permission, and prohibiting shipping and emigration agents from accepting passage money or from issuing tickets for that purpose, under threat of serious penalties.

Siberian Socialists And Communists Now Getting Together

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, April 10.—An interesting symptom in the political world in the Far East is an apparent tendency towards a reconciliation between the Communists and the Social Revolutionary Party.

At a meeting of the Maritime Region district committee of the Social Revolutionary party, held on March 29, Messrs. I. A. Yakousheff and G. P. Gratchoff were excluded from the party for infringement of party discipline, their misdemeanour apparently consisting in taking part in public meetings which had as their theme an anti-Communist campaign in the name of democracy.

In Chita the Communists are making every endeavor to draw members of the Social Revolutionary party into the future Cabinet. In the local Vladivostok National Assembly the Social revolutionary fraction, which, until recently, has voted with the opposition against the Communists, has begun to change its policy and, in the question of the arresting of the Kappellites, it was a Social Revolutionary, Plechanoff, who moved the amendment of confidence in the actions of the Cabinet against which the Opposition had voted, and his motion was passed by a Communist majority.

The much talked of conference of non-socialist organisations in Vladivostok has come to an end, and the Harbin delegates have returned under Japanese protection. The Conference achieved nothing, representing as it did merely the reactionary elements. Even the local Cadet party decided to take no part in it, as they considered that any activities tending in the direction of reaction or intervention would merely prolong the period of disorder and were useless from an anti-Bolshevist point of view.

Heavy Tax On Coal From Ruhr District Also Contemplated

Paris Plans Drastic Measures To Enforce Reparation Payment

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, April 20.—A forecast of France's penalties, in the event of Germany's failing to fulfil her obligations by May 1, includes a tax of from fifty to seventy francs per ton on coal mined in the Ruhr basin, a tax on exports and the seizure of a proportion of the shares of industrial concerns.

Paris, April 20.—French mining engineers would supervise the work of the German engineers in mining and distributing the coal from the Ruhr Basin. It is estimated that the output of the district in question will exceed seventy-five percent of the previous output of 250 million tons per annum.

These new measures and the establishment of the customs on the eastern frontier of the occupied territory will yield between three and five thousand million gold marks annually.

The new customs regime on the Rhine was put into operation last night. The delay caused to passengers was very slight.

London, April 20.—The Secretary-General of the French Foreign Office (M. Berthelot) Lord Curzon, Marshal Foch and Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, will attend the conference at Lympne during the week-end, which is the outcome of a letter from M. Briand to Mr. Lloyd George, declaring that the time had come to an end for German quibblings and that it was now time for action.

London, April 20.—With regard to the occupation of the Ruhr district in the event of Germany's failing to fulfill her obligations, it is pointed out from a French source that, if the German miners in the occupied coal basin refuse to work, Germany will have no coal, as the only other German coalfield, apart from Upper Silesia, is the Saxon basin, which is very poor. This will threaten Germany with a general stoppage, which will surely compel her to carry out her obligations.

It is emphasised that France does not desire to annex German territory, but simply to make Germany pay the estimated three thousand million francs obtainable annually from the Ruhr.

New York, April 20.—According to London advices, Mr. Lloyd George has announced that the Allies have agreed to maintain neutrality in the hostilities between Greece and Turkey.

Britain Keeping Watch On Reds

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 20.—In the House of Commons today, Sir John Baird stated on behalf of the Home Secretary, Mr. Edward Short, that the Government was paying attention to the Bolshevist propaganda in Great Britain. It fell, he said, under three heads: The payment of salaries to Communist officials of from £5 to £10 weekly; subsidies to the extremist press, and the free distribution of revolutionary literature. It was believed that this expenditure amounted to at least £23,000 monthly.

There was evidence, Sir John Baird continued, that some funds came from Moscow before the trade agreement was signed. Communist agents had undoubtedly been attempting to exploit the unemployed, whose unofficial committees in many industrial centers were chiefly carried on by paid "Red" agents, whose policy was to concentrate upon centers where industrial unrest prevails. Much mischievous propaganda has been undertaken by persons who contrive to keep within the law, but the police were able to deal with some instances.

Giant British Airship, R-34, Completely Wrecked By Storm

THE great British R-34 recently was battered to pieces by the gale at Howden, England. The big dirigible is now a total wreck as a result of the severe bumping in the high wind. Arriving at Howden after a service flight, it was found impossible to take the big ship into its shed, and she was moored in the open. Had a mooring mast been provided it is probable the big ship would have ridden out the terrific gale.

Old Chinese Writings Full Of Scientific Information, Says Dr. Herbert Chatley

BY ELSIE McCORMICK

Chinese science dating from the days when the Yellow Emperor appointed the Hsi and Ho families to study the stars and then punished them severely when they failed to predict an eclipse of the sun was outlined by Dr. Herbert Chatley yesterday in a lecture delivered before the Royal Asiatic Society. Everything of scientific import from the mighty irrigation system of the Chengtu plain to a Chinese taxi-cart that rang a bell every mile for the benefit of the passenger was at least mentioned during the course of the lecture and the subsequent discussion.

"There is no science in the sense of co-ordinating facts with a view to working out universal laws, but there was a great deal of scientific information," Dr. Chatley said, "China has had three periods of intense intellectual growth —the primitive period, associated with the Emperors Yao and Shun; the middle period, which is best represented by Confucius; and the late period centering around Chu Fu-tze, eminent philosopher and scientist, who lived about 1200 A.D. It was Chu Fu-tze who first tried to explain all physical, mental, and spiritual phenomena in terms of the two interacting principles of ying and yang, a conception that pervades a great deal of Chinese thought today.

Chinese scientific conceptions can be found in very unexpected places. References to zoology and botany are frequent in "The Book of Poetry," and "The Book of Changes," a highly mysterious volume of 64 essays, reveals many current notions on the subject of science. As a matter of fact, the "Book of Changes" was so incomprehensible that an astute reader could prove anything from it and hence it became very popular as a Chinese authority.

In the days when Huang Ti, the Yellow Emperor, played with astronomy and enforced irrigation, Shen Nung, the "Divine Cook", spent his leisure inventing new dishes and compiling them into the world's first recipe book. Shen also immortalised himself by the more dubious achievement of discovering seventy poisons. Many generations after his death, an Emperor so longed for the epicurean dishes of the Divine Cook that he ordered every city and village in the Kingdom to be searched for a copy of his recipes.

Carts trailed in to the capital city, laden with volumes from all parts of the Empire, but unfortunately for the Emperor, not one of the cook-books was still in existence. However, His Imperial Majesty consoled himself with a newly-discovered botany describing 365 more or less edible herbs.

Referring to the study of astronomy by the Chinese, Dr. Chatley stated that a fairly accurate system of arranging the lunar months had been worked out as early as 2000 B.C. Careful records have always been kept of eclipses, comets, meteors, and new stars, usually with a view to forecasting the weather or predicting future events. Study of meteorology resulted in the division of the year into twenty-four two-week periods, named according to the weather likely to prevail. There is the "Period of Small Dew," "The First Moving of the Insects," and other conveniently named seasons which help the houseboy to become a weather-prophet and which are implicitly believed in by most of the foreign population. Dr. Chatley states that their confidence is misplaced, as the calender originated in the Yellow River country and is fairly accurate only for that region.

A text-book on geometry, written by a Chinese Euclid as early as 500 B.C., and algebras carrying the subject to equations of the fourth or fifth degree proved that Chinese mathematics were not entirely confined to calculating the amount of squeeze. The appearance of the decimal system suggests importation from Arabia and India, and gave the Chinese a much simpler method than that followed by Greece or Rome.

NO LUCK BE FITHER

Search for mankind's two favorite chimeras—an exiiir of youth and a substance that would turn baser metals into gold had their counterparts in China as well as in the rest of the world. Taoist priests who became known as the chief alchemists of the Empire and who spent patient hours toiling over crucibles had about as much success as their unfortunate brothers in Europe. Though China made little progress in chemical science, she developed a knowledge of practical chemistry illustrated by pottery, textiles, and metal objects.

There were many other scientists in China—Chu Fu Tze, who first observed fossils on hill-tops; the Emperor Yu, a royal engineer whom tradition saddles with the mighty accomplishment of cutting the Yangtze gorges; the unknown inventor who made a "self-pointing chariot," geared to maintain a constant direction, and the host of nameless and unwept discoverers of unlovely Chinese medicines.

BIG LEAGUE ENGINEERS

In hydraulics and engineering, China has proved herself to be in the Big League class. The Great Wall, the Grand Canal, and the Chengtu irrigation system were the work of men who deserve to rank higher than most workers of modern engineering miracles because they accomplished work just as great with none of the labor-saving equipment.

China's accomplishments prove that she had much subconscious scientific knowledge, though she failed to co-ordinate the facts into a system. But a nation who built the Great Wall can be excused for not writing a text-book on the subject. Too many modern scientists are inclined to write their text-books first and build their Great Walls afterwards.

New York, April 20.—The industrial troubles which have recently become more threatening on account of wage reductions are likely to come to a head as a result of the American Shipowners' Association having given notice of a 25 percent reduction in wages from May 1, to which the Seamen's Union has replied with the threat of a strike in the Atlantic and Pacific simultaneously.

It was urged in support of the treaty that it was likely to secure to American interests the chief share in the exploitation of Colombia which will probably become one of the greatest oilfields in the world.

Attempted Coup At Vladivostok Fails

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, April 10.—The chief local event of the last ten days was the attempted coup d'etat of March 30-31. This miserable affair was the work of a few adventurers from Harbin, assisted by a small section of the Grodekovo group. The forces at the disposal of the Vladivostok administration were quite sufficient to quell the rising, and, thanks to the Japanese troops, very little bloodshed resulted.

In connection with this event, General Tachibana, Commanding the Japanese troops, informed Mr. Prokofieff, President of the Vladivostok National Assembly, that in the event of further disorders of this nature the Japanese would disarm both sides to maintain order. He further said that in his opinion such occurrences were due to the lack of a proper democratic system of government.

Mr. Prokofieff then drew the General's attention to the various declarations which the Government has made as to its democratic intentions. The General, however, remarked that the declarations were one thing and the results in actual practice quite another. He also said that the proposal to dissolve the local National Assembly, if carried out would be additional proof of lack of democratic intentions, and might compel the Japanese to consider the question of policing the district themselves in the interests of law and order.

The idea of the promoters of the rising was to draw the Kappel troops into the business, get them to do all the work, and profit by the results. In this, however, they were disappointed as the Kappelites refused to be drawn out.

The local Communists also did all possible to make it appear as though the Kappel troops were to blame for the disorder and make a number of quite uncalled-for arrests amongst them. The presence of the Japanese troops, however, prevented any acts of red terrorism.

The ignominous failure of the rising proved conclusively that the extreme reactionary elements have little chance of starting any more adventures, and their efforts in this direction merely tend to strengthen the position of the Communists.

Japan Will Remain Silent On Yap Issue

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, April 20.—The Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs has issued a statement that the Foreign Office, believing it to be unwise to publish more than what has already been published concerning the Yap controversy, because negotiations are now in progress, neither confirms nor denies the report in this morning's Nichi Nichi that the Government has decided not to change its original attitude on this question.

MINERS FIRM IN STAND FOR NATION WIDE PROFIT POOL

Latest Proposals Of Owners Rejected As "Meaningless"

NEW VOTE TAKEN

South Wales Federation Demands Resignation Of Organisation Official

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 20.—The prospect of the Miners' Federation modifying their present demands is not encouraged by the majority of the decisions hitherto published from various districts. One of the most important of these decisions was reached at Cardiff today, when a full delegate conference of the South Wales Miners' Federation reaffirmed its previous resolutions, insisting on a national wage agreement and a pool of profits, it also demanded the recission of the resolution of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain permitting safety work in the mines, and requested the resignation of Mr. Frank Hodges, Secretary of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain. Replying to the owners' new proposals, the Miners' Federation declare that the offer merely re-formulated their previous proposals, and is vague and meaningless. The Federation reiterates its demand for a national wages board and a national levy on tonnage.

London, April 21.—Although the coal-owners and miners have not yet held another meeting, they are conducting prolific discussions in the press.

While the miners declare that the new offer announced by the coal-owners yesterday marks no advance on previous offers and does not meet the demand for a national pool or levy, which the miners are apparently by no means inclined to relinquish, the owners have published a statement declaring that a levy on tonnage would be essentially the same as a profits pool, involving Government control and discouraging enterprise.

Hello, Here's A Brand New War To Add To The List

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 20.—A sensational report was recently circulated by a Lisbon correspondent, to the effect that war was imminent between China and Portugal. Strained relations between these two countries had, it was stated, been caused by China's refusal to permit the Portuguese to construct an efficient harbor at Macao. The correspondent went on to say that Britain was supporting China on this question, as Britain feared that the harbor at Macao would prove a dangerous competitor to Hongkong.

The British Government brought this report to the attention of the Portuguese Government, and the latter issued an emphatic denial which completely removed the misapprehension created by the report. The report was telegraphed to Rio de Janeiro, among other places.

ROTARIANS GIVE $225 FOR LOCAL SAILORS' HOSTEL

Cecil Holliday Speaks On Settlement Problems; Club Appoints Civic Committee

A gift of $225 was made yesterday by the Shanghai Rotary Club to Wayport Rooms, a new hostel to be opened shortly at 148K Boone Road for European and American sailors by the St. Joseph's Catholic Association.

The grant was made at the weekly tiffin meeting of the Club which was held at the Astor House. The meeting was given over to a discussion of civic problems and the principal speaker was Mr. Cecil Holliday a resident of Shanghai for over 44 years. Dr. Holliday was formerly a member of the Shanghai Municipal Council. United States Consul-General E. S. Cunningham also spoke.

Following Mr. Holliday's address, President H. C. Norman announced the Rotary Club's committee on civic affairs for 1921, made up of Messrs. T. E. Doremus, chairman; W. S. Fleming, C. T. Wang, H. K. DeVault and Dr. W. S. Parsons.

Buzz Buzz

"Buzz Buzz" proved to be one of the greatest successes of a London season, owing to the number of catchy songs, snappy dances, and witty situations that it contained. I remember seeing Walter Williams playing his first big part in it, and scoring a great hit with his fine baritone voice and handsome stage presence. Nelson Keys was also in the cast, and it was the two of them that drew Town audiences to the Vaudeville for over a year.

Last night the Bandman Company put the piece on at the Lyceum Theater, and in doing so brought a real whiff of London atmosphere to Shanghai. The revue was beautifully mounted. The audience was a large one, and received every number with plenty of applause. The result was yet another successful production, and a most enjoyable evening for everyone on both sides of the footlights.

If one has to pick out a weak spot it would be the chorus, or rather the group of dancers that so often compose a chorus. A little more abandon; and little more vim; and a little more sympathy with each other, would make the movements more concerted. There is good stuff there, but it wants polishing up a bit.

What a splendid artiste Miss Madeline Rossiter is! She has magnetism. She has a pleasing voice. She can dance. She can act. Whenever she is on the stage there is not a dull moment. She dominates every situation. Let the comedians be as funny as they please, it is Miss Rossiter that is always in the playgoer's eye. Bandman has certainly a big find in this talented lady. Her prominent number last night was "Cairo." She sang the song well. She danced through in great style, and she was well supported by her bevy of girls, who proved to be a harmonious background.

Jack Crichton becomes more popular with the audience every night. He has any amount of funniosities, and his work always appeals to the funny bones of playgoers. He was particularly amusing in his number with Miss Doree Hanbury entitled "Coupons for Kisses." Dan Mansfield is another comedian who gets any amount of deserved laughter.

Eric Mansfield sings well, and the song with which he brought the curtain down on the first part was well rendered. He was also seen in a capital little skit called "The Merchant of Venison."

"Buzz Buzz" is a typical revue, and with a band of players like the present Bandman Company, all that is in it is brought out. The audience was evidently well pleased with the fare, and many of them will probably come tonight to laugh again at the witticisms, and enjoy the tuneful melodies.

Tonight, "Buzz Buzz."

Mixed Court Jottings

Fifteen motor car cases were heard by Assessor Hutchison and Magistrate Tsang in the special traffic court yesterday, fines ranging from $5 to $40 being imposed on chauffeurs convicted of violating the regulations. Two fines for the higher figure were assessed, with an alternative of two weeks' imprisonment, and there were several fines of $25. In addition, eleven mafoos were fined 50 cents apiece for causing obstruction of the Yuenfoong Road with their carriages. The Court in dealing with these cases commented that some provision should be made by which carriages can meet boats at the wharves and jetties.

An extensive opium den raid conducted Wednesday night at a lodging house at 122 See Gee Bae Ka, in the Central district, resulted in the appearance of the shroff of the place, and 38 patrons at the Mixed Court yesterday. S. I. Fairbairn told the Court that on entry the police had secured the doors of 30 rooms and that it was probable that a great many pipes, lamps, etc. were passed out of the windows while the prisoners were being rounded up. The seizures included 34 lamps, 12 pipes, 20 trays and much other paraphernalia, besides a considerable amount of small money. The place, the police pointed out, is a difficult one to raid as there are a multitude of exits and after every visit by the authorities the partitions inside are shifted about to confuse the raiders. The shroff was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and the others were fined $2 each, while a warrant was ordered to issue for the owner of the property.

A housebody formerly employed by Mr. F. Martin 18A North Szechuen Road, was sent to jail for three months yesterday for theft of clothing. After removing the garments he had placed a large store jar in the box in which they were contained so that the discrepancy in weight might not be noticed.

American Firms In Spy Plot Declares Nichi Nichi In Yarn

Heads Of 'Investigating' Organisation Enlist Aid Of Business Men, Says Paper In Latest 'Spy' Sensation

Tokio, April 5.—A remarkable addition to its already long list of American "spy" stories was printed by the Toyo Nichi Nichi in its issue of yesterday morning, in which appeared a story purporting to tell of activities of several American firms whose representatives, while claiming to seek to strengthen the friendship of Japan and the United States, are really making investigations that have caused the police to watch them carefully.

Some of the leading American firms in Japan are mentioned in the Nichi Nichi's fabrication. Chief prominence is given to Admiral L. C. Palmer and Mr. C. G. Osborne of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore of Japan; but the Horne Company, Ltd., Andrews and George, and the Hospital Supply Company also come in for attention. A translation of the Nichi Nichi's story follows:

"In co-operation with the police of Yokohama, the Metropolitan Police of Tokio have been keeping a strict watch over certain Americans who are engaged in investigating conditions in Japan with the ostensible object of strengthening the friendship of Japan and America. The headquarters of these Americans are in the Kaijo Building in Marunouchi, Tokio, and the Oriental Palace Hotel, Yokohama, and they are under the leadership of Admiral L. C. Palmer, retired, and Colonel Osborne.

AID OF FIRMS ENLISTED

"Hitherto these Americans have been making investigations personally, but recently they have abandoned this method because they realised that they were achieving small results. Now they have enlisted the aid of several American business firms to carry on investigations. The Horne Company of Takiyama-cho, Kyobashi; Andrews and George of the same place and the Hospital Supply Company of Owaricho, Ginza, are among these firms. In Yokohama there are three firms acting on behalf of this group of American investigators.

"The Horne Company is the most active of all, and the police authorities have been surprised by the audacity of Mr. Agajan, an engineer in that company. Mr. Agajan some time ago inspected the condition of the railways in the Hokkaido, where he stayed for a month and a half. Returning, he visited the Muroran Iron Foundry. He also visited some of the coal mines belonging to this establishment. His inspection of the railways in the Hokkaido was facilitated by a letter of introduction from a certain secretary of the Imperial Government Railways. A letter of introduction given him by a certain high naval officer of the Kure Naval Depot was used when he made a survey of the Muroran Iron Foundry.

MANY AMERICANS IN WORK

"There are many Americans who are being used in this work of making a survey of Japan, working as individuals. A certain graduate of the law department of the Imperial University of Tokio, the president of a certain news agency in Yokohama, a certain foreigner on the staff of this agency, an American living in Hinoki-cho, Akasaka-ku, Tokio, are among those acting under the direction of Admiral Palmer and have already obtained good results."

The Nichi Nichi's yarn has only to be stated to show how ridiculous are the insinuations made "Too riduculous for comment," was the way it was characterised by a representative of one of the firms named in the story yesterday. "A denial of such a story or series of rumors would dignify a blackmailing scheme and therefore none is necessary," this man continued. "I feel that the best Japanese papers will co-operate in any attempt to stop this campaign to stir up ill-feeling where none is at present. Attacks of this kind do little harm in the case of thinking people, but if continued and spread to a sufficient number of uneducated, they may injure the good faith that exists between Americans living in Japan and their Japanese hosts."

"ABSURD," FIRMS SAY

Members of other firms named by the Nichi Nichi, when seen yesterday by an Advertiser representative, spoke of the Nichi Nichi story as "absurd," "ridiculous" and "unjust to a company which has always conducted its affairs in a most honorable manner."

Admiral Palmer has been the recipient of similar attention at the hands of the Japanese press before. The most vicious of the attacks heretofore appeared in the Chugai Shogyo, on January 19 of this year. The fact is that Admiral Palmer, who is in Japan purely for business reasons has retired from the United States and is not connected with the service any longer.

AGAJAN, AN ARMENIAN

Mr. V. P. Agajan, the employe of the Horne Company who is referred to in the Nichi story, is an Armenian instead of an American. He has never been in the United States. Educated at a mission school in Armenia he went to England where he worked, and there he married an English girl.

After spending some time as a mechanic at various mines in Korea and Siberia Mr. Agajan came to Tokio about a year ago and has since been employed as a mechanical expert by the Horne Company. His work of demonstrating machines and in making estimates necessary for projects which this company bid on carried him to various places among them being those referred to by the Japanese newspaper.

The police have been keeping track of Mr. Agajan since he arrived here, he says, some of them calling at his house every few weeks to question either him or his wife. He said yesterday that several days ago a reporter for the Nichi Nichi called under the pretext of getting a story about his having put together a road grader, purchased by the Government. Mr. Agajan readily gave him the information and told him about his work, later allowing the reporter to take his picture. No reference was made in the interview to the matters alleged in the story published by the paper.

NICHI NICHI, CHIEF GUILTY

Among the Japanese papers which have been catering to the demand for cheap "spy" sensations, the Nichi Nichi has been the most persistent and most vicious, having appeared to make a speciality of stories accusing Americans, either directly or by inference, of unwarranted activity in making investigations in this country. It will be remembered that is was the Nichi Nichi which last fall was compelled by the Minister of the Navy to publish a retraction of its story which described in picturesque detail and fantastic disregard for the truth a journey which Captain Edward H. Watson, the American Naval Attache, had made to the Kure Naval Base.

The Banvards

Playing to a good house the Banvard Company introduced a new production to Shanghai last night, with good effect. "Looking for Love" is a farcical musical affair which is handled deftly by the Banvards and brought forth every indication of approval from last night's audience. The melange of music, dancing and comedy revolves about an incident involving the theft of a painting done by a member of a secret society. Duplicate paintings, cases of mistaken identity and other complications are injected into the proceedings to create a series of amusing situations. The same piece will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night the Banvards will give, as their farewell performance, "Castles in Spain."

French Using Parsley As Absinthe Substitute

France has her own moonshine problem. This has been discovered as the result of the shortage in parsley from the markets, although the farmers say they have not diminished their production of this essential of the French cuisine. It is now claimed that as soon as parsley appears in the central markets it is eagerly bought by syndicates which have been producing absinthe and substitutes for the seductive drink, the plant providing alcoholic distillations not only resembling absinthe in taste but infinitely more powerful in effect. As a result parsley prices have doubled in the last week, while four brands of absinthe professing to give all the joys of the famous green beverage are appearing simultaneously on French bars.

Itemised Art

Russia must be a great country for the artists, now that they've abolished money. The poor painters and poets must feel right at home. The only question is, since nobody has any money how are you going to be able to tell a poet from an ordinary citizen?

Another detail of the new system in Russia which must be a great satisfaction to the artists is their plan of issuing food cards in return for work done. No more starving in a garret by a poor verse-writer. No more pawning his velvet jacket by the poor painter in order to get enough paint to ruin an eight-by-ten canvas.

No sooner is a poem completed than the emaciated author has a chance to eat. In more civilised countries he has to sell his poem before he can eat, but in Russia they believe in feeding the animals without delay. Doubtless, under the Soviet system, poetry and food have been reduced to scale, thus:

Couple ..... a cutlet
Quatrain ..... a quart of milk
Sonnet ..... a steak
Slumber song .... a night-cap
Idyll ..... a mess of green vegetables
Elegy ..... a slab of cheese
Epic ..... a leg of lamb

For painters, the system of rewards and punishments would be more complicated. Perhaps it could be arranged on a basis of the number of square inches of canvas covered. Perhaps for every square foot of landscape the painter would get a square meal. In that event the artist with the biggest brush would dine the heartiest.

Or possibly the artists may be compelled to turn in an itemised bill for work done, just as the Soviet plumbers and bank clerks have to do. Various jobs would have different food values, and thus the painter who was told to touch up the paintings in church could present his account in the following detail:

For washing Pilate's hands and retouching Jerusalem, a slice of ham.

For straightening Satan's tail and polishing his horns, half a dozen oranges.

For patching Joseph's coat and revarnishing Moses's rod one lb. of prunes.

For repairing the holes in heaven and brightening the stars, one sirloin steak with onions.

For washing behind Goliath's ears and repairing David's sling, half dozen lamb chops.

For giving Lots's wife a general overhauling, three bunches of rhubarb.

For putting fresh gold on the streets of heaven, one lb. of fresh roasted coffee.

Education's A Fraud, Growls Bernard Shaw

'School Is Place Where Children Are Sent To Keep Them From Annoying Parents'

London, March 2.—"What is wrong with education?" was the subject of an address by G. Bernard Shaw at the London Day Training College. He prefaced his address with the remark that what he has to say on this subject is always unpleasant. For what is wrong with education in this country is that it is a fraud. The school is a fraud, the teachers are frauds and the teaching is a fraud. It is a masquerade, an imposture.

The child is never considered, Mr. Shaw said, almost in so many words. The parents often send the child to school to get rid of it. The child at first is an amusing little creature, but often becomes a nuisance. Of course, the parents never say so, for the essence of English morality is always to do what one is expected to do.

What is wrong with education is that child-life is unorganised. The children are left haphazard to the parents, and parents must get rid of the children at all costs. Therefore the school becomes a prison. It is the place where children are sent to keep them from annoying their parents, and the person who teaches in the school is the prison warden. They may be the most incompetent teachers and they will never lose their places, but let them allow a child to go home to its parents before the appointed hour and they will be discharged instantly.

There must be a certain amount of compulsory teaching, Mr. Shaw concluded, in effect, because if the child is not taught to read and write it becomes a greater nuisance than ever. But one of the causes of civilisation breaking up at the moment is that people are never educated as citizens at all.

IS YOUR FAMILY LARGE OR SMALL?

Whether you have several children or only one the experience of Mrs. T. J. Rose, a mother living at Lake Talon, Ontario, Canada, will interest you. She says:—"I have found Baby's Own Tablets a great medicine for the little ones. My baby was badly troubled with colic, but before I had used half the contents of a bottle Baby's Own Tablets he was entirely cured. Since then he has grown well and rests nicely at night."

Equally helpful and harmless to the youngest infant as to the child of 6 years or more, Baby's Own Tablets are a proved remedy for infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, colds, croup, teething troubles and worms. They promote natural restful sleep, increase the appetite and aid development.

Chemists sell them, also obtainable at 60 cents the vial, post free, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Classy Highwaymen But Crude Salesmen

Victim, However, Does Buy His Watch Back While Detective Looks On

New York, March 12.—Andrew Fleming and Charles Tetley are better highwaymen than they are salesmen, according to Frank Richardson of No. 430 79th Street, Brooklyn, who caused their arrest yesterday after they had waylaid and robbed him and then kept an appointment to return his watch for $100.

Fleming, who is a seaman living at No. 101 Washington Street, Brooklyn, and Tetley, a boilermaker, of No. 40 Wyckoff Street, same borough, are locked up in the Fort Hamilton Station charged with assault and robbery. According to the police, they have confessed.

Richardson went home by subway and was held up at Fourth Avenue and 78th Street. They blackjacked him and then relieved him of $1,085 in cash and jewelry, including a $750 watch given to him by his father, who died three months ago.

Richardson pleaded for his watch. The robbers said they would sell it to him for $100. He made an engagement to meet them at the De Kalb Avenue subway station in the afternoon. He brought the money and turned it over to them. They handed back the watch after which they were arrested.

Medium Raw Silk Grades Are Active In Markets Of Japan

Most Of Buyers Including Some Leading Exporters Resume Operations, In Yokohama

Tokio, April 8.—Yesterday the situation in the raw silk market was again active and lively, buyers having renewed consultations over medium grades. The 1921/1922 season's silk were yesterday being sold ahead, too. Although Wednesday's trade is described by Yokohama people as softer the day's business reached no less than 100,000 kin at the close of that evening. Yesterday morning buyers for the United States resumed consultations with their new activity. The most of buyers included some leading exporters at the port and was shown that Wednesday's softer showing was only a temporary lull before another active business. Till noon the price was steadily sent up higher and the development of consultations was referred.

In the afternoon more buyers were in the market and negotiations over medium grades were much more brisk. At the time of writing negotiations were being rapidly matured and it was believed that the whole volume of the day's business might be up to 160,000 kin.

It was a feature noted yesterday that exporters who had deferred their consultations over new silk in view of the Imperial Silk Company's limited capacity to buy were shaking off their hesitant mood. Some of them tried to cover medium sizes ahead and, according to yesterday's Yokohama report, some business was transacted till the evening at the same price as spot goods.

Every thing was thus indicative of the steadiness of the present activity in the raw silk trade. In the waste silk market, too, yesterday saw some fair business being transacted. That foreign firm which covered fair parcels at the beginning of this week finished its buying, but a Japanese firm was in the market yesterday. It was inspecting samples on the understanding that 50,000 kin of extra filature kibiso was being covered.

Life In Monte Carlo Just One Scrap Of Paper After Another

Everywhere A Traveler Goes, Says One, He Must Have A Ticket

London, Feb. 20.—Life at Monte Carlo seems to be one scrap of paper after another. "I am obsessed by pieces of paper," writes A. E. Manning Foster in The London Daily Mail.

"You cannot do anything in Monte Carlo without a ticket. And to lose one is to involve yourself in endless troubles. The official mind is grieved and affronted at any levity in this matter. The billet must be treasured as a sacred document and produced promptly on demand.

"You must have a cloakroom ticket when you leave your hat. You must have a ticket for the Casino, for the Sporting Club and for the Cercle Prive.

"You must have a passport, an identification card and a permit from the police to stay more than a fortnight in the principality.

"Everywhere you go people press tickets upon you. One night when I turned out my pockets I counted fourteen. It is true most of them were out of date. But it is a ticklish matter to destroy a ticket in Monte Carlo. You may tear up the wrong one!

"As for money, your pockets fairly bulge with paper. Since my arrival I have seen only one coin—a 10-centime piece. I keep it with some English silver and coppers. The jingle of them is reassuring. The touch of them is the only substantial thing in a phantom world of paper.

"Nothing can make me feel that these dirty, undignified scraps are money. I take no pride in their possession. My one desire is to get rid of the tainted things as soon as I can.

"I have had temporary possession of undesirable Treasury notes in England, but never have I seen such evil-looking, dilapidated, filthy lucre as here.

"And the worst of it is that half of it is not current in the place where you are staying. There are all sorts of local French issues of 25 and 50 centime and franc notes, which are palmed off on the unwary and are no good in Monte Carlo.

"Much as you hate touching the nasty things it is well to examine your change. Bank of France notes are, of course, all right, as are the notes of the principality. The Chamber de Commerce de Nice et Alpes Maritimes has some quite pictorial small notes if only you can secure clean specimens.

"I much prefer the Casino counters to this paper money. Others evidently do so also, as the Casino has issued a notice asking members not to use them for payment outside the rooms and to exchange them at the end of play.

"The counters are pleasant things, and at any rate they are clean. There are 1,000-franc plaques (nominally $200), fine, solid-looking fellows; there are round blue 100-franc ($20) counters, smaller red ones representing 20 francs, and still smaller pieces at 5 francs.

"One cannot feel for them the same affection that gold and silver coins inspire. There is not the same thrill in playing with them, nor does the sight of piles of them on the croupier's table arouse the same avarice as did in former days the glint of gold. It is like the return to childhood, when we were allowed to play games for counters but not for money.

"I am sure the moralist might find a parable in it all—this scene of feverish men and women crowded in stuffy rooms playing for—counters. It is a game of make-believe in an unreal world.

"But if there is not the same joy in winning counters as in winning gold, the bank scores in another way.

"One parts with them in handfuls without sense of loss and without regret."

Dr. Angell Visits Yale To Study The Field

Will Be Installed As President On July 1—Guest Of Dr. And Mrs. Hadley

New Haven, March 12.—James Rowland Angell, Yale's President-elect, spent five hours at the university this afternoon. It was the first sight many of the undergraduates and some of the alumni had of the new head.

The undergraduates saw little of him, for the principal part of his visit was taken up at a meeting of the Yale Corporation, where plans were discussed for his inauguration and other details incident to his assuming charge of affairs and at a luncheon in his honor at Memorial Hall.

Dr. Angell addressed the corporation at noon and spoke later at the luncheon. Mayor David E. Fitzgerald, Chairman of the alumni Advisory Board, was present. In both addresses he said he could take up his work with enthusiasm, because he was in the heartiest sympathy with the ideals of Yale.

Dr. Angell's obligations to the Carnegie Corporation are such that he will postpone until the next university year the acceptance of all alumni dinner invitations except the proposed general dinner in New York and a few others already arranged.

President and Mrs. Arthur Hadley are arranging to give a reception to the President-elect and Mrs. Angell in the Yale Art School on the evening of May 4. To this all members of the faculty and all graduating students will be invited.

The matter of President Angell's inauguration has been left to President Hadley and President-elect Angell. Mr. Angell will officially assume the duties of the Presidency on July 1.

Baer: SAYS "BUGS"

ROUGHTOWN HELD THE REAL CHAMP

Piroved It By Beating Tinkersdam Wonder In The 681st Round

BY "BUGS" BAER

Dear Sir: Gink Fowler may have been the champion of Roughtown, but I was born in a town that would make Roughtown look like the village of Brotherly Love on a rainy Sunday.. The name of this bury was Tinkersdam. It was pronounced with the oil on the third syllable. The champion of Tinkersdam was Needles Maxwell, who weighed 400 pounds on two scales, had a neck like a bass drum and could wallop like a scared mule in flytime.

Each one of his fingers was an alligator's tail. His left fist was disaster and calamity in one bundle. His right fist meant ten at the house and eleven at the church. He was a champion in a town where they thought that a cry for help was a limerick. I don't want to detract from Gink Fowler, but they tell me that Needles once fought him and laid him like a cornerstone.

Yours Till the Sphinx Melts,
HUGHIE M'LOON.

There have been many attempts to put the bulldoze on Gink Fowler, champion of Roughtown. When we say champion of Roughtown we mean everything in the town, including the orphan asylums' and the Old Soldiers' Home. Needles Maxwell was a good fighter, but the day he met Fowler he used a subterfuge that has been legislated out of civilised inquisitions.

Needles had his hands bound in tea lead. He was a great admirer of Tommy Lipton's ability to furnish the last race of international yacht races. He drank his tea raw, without adulterating it with steam heat or pulverised essence of consomme. He had ten pounds of tea lead on each hand, and every time he socked Gink it sounded like London Bridge falling down, falling down, falling down; London Bridge was falling down, so merrily.

Then he would swing his ballasted left and it looked like the other nursery rhyme, here comes the candle to light you to bed, light you to bed, light you to bed, here comes the candle to light you to bed, so merrily.

Needles was a good fighter and it was a good fight while Needles' share of it lasted. But his own scheme started to backfire and blew him loose from the euchre prize. The twenty pounds of lead got too heavy to lift. Needles went speedily to pieces, the end coming suddenly in the 681st round. As the lead grew heavier to his tired arms, Needles gradually put the brakes on. In the last round, he was anchored.

Gink saw his chance and tore off an inaugural parade around his helpless opponent. He measured Needles like a tailor and spanked him with his famous one-two punch. That was both hands together. Then he gave him his three-four punch. That was both feet. Needles started to fold up like a carpenter's yardstick. Needles was the bird who was laid like a cornerstone. He was through after that and spent the declining years of his life in a barroom waiting for somebody to slip him an invitation for a beaker of glue. The last heard of him he was trying to run away from his shadow in the Land of Eternal Sunshine.

INTERPORT POLO SLATED FOR FAR EASTERN GAMES

Tientsin And Peking Teams Express Wish To Play In Olympics

POLO PROSPECTS GOOD

Shanghai Expects To Play In Hongkong Next September

Games between the Shanghai Polo club and Tientsin and Peking are on the calendar for playing during the Far Eastern Games here in the early part of June. A trip of the local team to Hongkong and special play for four additional silver cups among the members of the Shanghai Club feature the 1921 seasons program.

Both of the Northern cities have written the local club expressinng their keen wish to play here during the big sporting games and it has already been intimated to Tientsin that should they find it possible to come, the local polo men will be very pleased to play them. The game with Peking is expected also to develop into a reality.

Yesterday's meeting of the polo club forecasted a good season for polo here. The playing membership of the club was shown to have increased over last year from 48 to 59, with the non-playing membership advanced in number from 84 to 109. The playing field has been given a thorough going-over during the last few months—smoothed over, and underlaid with gravel in the wet spots so that quick drying after a rain is assured. The grounds already are open for practice. A good supply of sticks has just been received from England. Four silver cups have been put up by Mr. George Dallas for the 1921 season, the conditions under which they are to be played for

BARNES CUP COMPETITION COMES SUNDAY

American Company Will Make Bid For Trophy; Conditions Announced

The Barnes Cup Competition, to go to the company of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps adjudged best after a combination of marching and shooting, will take place on Sunday morning. The teams, about 14 in number, will parade at 6 a.m. at the corner of Thibet and Nanking Roads, South side.

The competition consists of a march along Thibet Road, Avenue Edward VII, Bund, Broadway, Seward Road, Fearon Road, Dixwell Road, N. Szechuen Road Extension to the 700 yards mound on the Rifle Range. No doubling is permitted throughout the march. Each man will draw 20 rounds ball cartridge at the starting place which will be used at service targets on the range.

Rifles will be loaded by order of the Range Officer and safety catches will be set until the targets appear.

The affair is expected to be completed by 11 o'clock in the morning. The Cup, which is donated by Colonel A. C. Barnes, Ex-commandant of the S.V.C., will be awarded at the annual distribution of prizes to the volunteers in the fall.

The teams on Sunday will parade in field service marching order. Any member of a team who parades improperly dressed will not be allowed to take part in the competition.

Each team will be awarded the average of its score on the range, i.e. the total score divided by the number of rifles starting. Thirty points will be awarded to the team with the best percentage of hits to rounds fired, each of the other teams in order having three points less than the one next above. To this will be added one point for each complete minute less than the time taken by the slowest team. Two points will be deducted for each member of a team who does not finish.

The American Company will be represented by 17 members, constituting about one-fourth of the entire force. The other companies will be represented by an average of a quarter of their total strength. A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown by the various companies to win the competition.

East China Intercollegiate Track And Field Games To Be At Soochow May 14

The annual track and field meet of the East China Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be held on May 14 at Soochow University, in accordance with the decision of the track committee of the association, consisting of Messrs. R. D. Smart, A. H. Leslie and H. D. Holt.

The meet will include the 100, 220, high hurdles, low hurdles, shot, discus, javelin, and broad jump. In the field events three trials will be given each athlete in the preliminaries; the best six will compete in the afternoon in the finals.

In the dashes and the hurdles the arrangements will depend largely on the number of entries, though it is expected that there will be six to compete in the finals of each of the dashes, and four in the hurdles.

Entries must be in the hands of the track committee one week before the meet. Soochow University, will receive the entries. It is not necessary to list the entries according to the events. The names of the contestants must be sent and the president of the institution must sign the eligibility statement. The expenses will be prorated according to this list.

Arrangements are being made for athletes other than those representing the E. C. I. A. A. to have a try out for the Far Eastern Contests in connection with our Intercollegiate Meet. The following plan will be followed:

(a) In all field events the outside athletes will compete along with the E.C.I. A.A. athletes.
(b) In the hurdles and dashes adjustments will be made in the light of the number of entries.
(c) In all other races a separate event will be held if there are three or more contestants. If only one or two they will be allowed to compete with the E.C.I.A.A. men.

This is the only public chance athletes in East China will have to show what they can do in open competition. Therefore, all who have any hopes or ambitions along this line should send in their entries immediately to the E.C.I.A.A. at Soochow.

Interport Polo Slated For Far Eastern Games

to be decided later by the committee.

President R. I. Fearon, who presided at yesterday's meeting, reviewed the club's activities during the past season. Polo was played on 40 regular days during the season, he said, with the features of the play being the Interport Match for the Keswick challenge cup, and the annual tournament for the Bydand challenge cup.

The interport match played in Shanghai was with the Hongkong challengers. The home team consisted of Messrs. E. H. McMichael, H. G. Robinson, George Dallas and E. S. B. Rowe. The game went to Shanghai by a score of 4 to 3 after a keen contest. The Hongkong club, Mr. Fearon said was sure to challenge for a return game this season, and the Shanghai team would probably go South in September for the match.

The play for the Bydand challenge cup, presented by Mr. A. W. Burkill, a one-time president of the club in commemoration of his "Champions" win, resulted in the cup going to the team composed of Messrs. H. G. Robinson, O. S. B. Rowe, J. Cocklin and Comm. Hodson, R.N., who beat their opponents by but one point. Mr. Fearon explained the closeness of the play by pointing out that but for that one point all teams in the competition would have been tied, necessitating playing the whole cup series over again.

The financial report and accounts of the club were adopted as read by Secretary and Treasurer J. A. Hayes. Mr. C. C. Boyd was elected to fill the vacancy on the committee caused by the departure for England of Mr. B. D. F. Beith. The remaining members of the committee were reelected en bloc, including Messrs. R. I. Fearon, H. G. Robinson, E. S. B. Rowe, E. H. McMichael and Dr. Billinghurst.

Mr. Fearon spoke feelingly of the death of Mr. E. R. Hooper, a late member, and formerly honorary secretary of the club. The club deplored his loss, he said. A tribute also was paid to the secretary Mr. Hayes, who though suffering a broken leg resulting from a fall while steeplechasing recently had carried on his services for the club and complied a comprehensive report and financial statement for use at the annual meeting.

Coal Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their coal market report of yesterday:

JAPAN COAL

There is nothing fresh to report on this market and no new business has been doing since last writing, deliveries are going on slowly and stocks on the spot are increasing to such an extent that it is getting very difficult to find storage accommodation at the various wharves for new cargoes arriving.

FUSHUN COAL

A certain amount of "Unscreened" coal is still available for export but no more "dust."

FUCHUNG ANTHRACITE COAL

No change.

KAIPING COAL

The market has remained very steady during the last two weeks, and owing to small factories being erected there is a gradual increase in the demand which can now be met as Railway facilities in the North have steadily improved. Prices remain firm and there is no hope of obtaining coal under recent quotations.

Freight Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their freight market report of yesterday:

The situation in our Outward Freight markets is as follows:

TO UNITED KINGDOM AND CONTINENT

The position here remains unchanged and as far as we can see there is no sign of any immediate improvement.

TO UNITED STATES VIA PACIFIC AND VIA PANAMA AND SUEZ

There is no change to report on these berths and cargo is as scarce as ever;—there is still a fair amount of silk going via Pacific and some skins and oddments via the Canals but nothing else to speak of.

COASTWISE

We have nothing to add to what we wrote a fortnight ago as the market has continued quiet and outside of the regular trades there is very little moving.

Hongkong Share Market

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor of Hongkong write as follows in their weekly share report dated Hongkong, April 15.

After a very brisk opening at the beginning of the week our market has eased off during the last two days, but without any appreciable drop in prices generally.

Shanghai Cottons have come to business at quotations with a better tone all round.

At the moment shares of the Ewo group apparently are unobtainable for Cash owing no doubt to the books being closed for the issue of new scrip.

Rubbers continue neglected.

Hongkong Banks:—Owing to the jump in exchange dropped to $835 at which price a few changed hands:

Cantons:—After being done at $445 closed quiet.

Unions:—Also affected by exchange have been done at $272 and close with sellers at $275.

Wharves:—Are wanted at $100.

Hongkong Docks:—Rose as high as $222, but close with buyers at $215½ Cash.

Deferred Indos:—Are wanted at $275 Hongkong Register, and $287½ London Register.

China Sugars:—Have been done at $247½.

Steamboats:—Have come to business at $27 and close with buyers at the rate.

Trams:—Are quiet at $12½ ex. dividend.

Cements:—Are wanted at $14.10.

Star Ferries:—Are quiet at $35.

Hongkong Lands:—Have been done at $190 cash and close steady.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending Wednesday, April 20.

Exchange:—The London price of silver has ruled unsteady during the week, the last quotation received 34⅞d. is 1⅛d. lower than last week. The rate for forward delivery is ½d. lower than "ready." Our rate for T.T. on London, supported by speculative sales of T.T. on London and America by native gold dealers for forward delivery, moved up ½d. to 3s, 3d. There does not appear to be any commercial basis to the strength in our exchange, as exports remain dull, and a fair demand for gold remittances at the premium offered over official quotations continues. Today we close with an easy tendency although 3s. 4½d. for T.T. on London and 66½d. for T.T. on America was still available in the open market.

The Crisis In Europe

SERIOUSNESS of the new European crisis growing out of the failure of the German Government and people to meet their obligations under the Treaty of Peace, especially with regard to reparations and disarmament, is brought sharply to public attention by the fact that April 22, today, is the date fixed for transference of the Reichsbank gold reserves from Berlin to branches in Coblentz and Cologne where this vast store of gold will be within reach of the Allies and will serve as security for the German deliveries under the treaty.

This money will continue on the Reichbank's balance sheet but the ultimatum to Germany declares that it shall not be disposed of without consent of the Reparations Commission.

Further, on May 1, Germany must make a satisfactory proposal for the payment of £600,000,000 to the Allies. The alternatives are submission to further coercive measures, or defiance and —war.

Today's dispatches disclose something of what Germany faces in the matter of new acts of coercion. For one thing, a tax of 50 to 70 francs per ton on coal mined in the Ruhr district is to be imposed. This means that Germany would have to pay that sum to the Allies on every ton from that district consumed in Germany. There would also be a tax on exported coal, and on all exports, of twelve percent. Further, seizure is proposed of a certain proportion of the shares of German industrial concerns.

With regard to the Ruhr district, we are told that if the German miners refuse to work, Germany will have no coal, "as the other German coalfield, apart from Upper Silesia, is in the Saxon basin, which is very poor. This will threaten Germany with a general stoppage."

We note incidentally a dispatch from Moscow instructing the Chita Government to keep out of trouble with the Japanese. This may indicate that the Soviet government is planning to use its troops elsewhere than in Siberia during the fine fighting weather now approaching. And the Soviet Government has less love for France than it has for Germany. A deal between Moscow and Berlin is among the possibilities. Altogether, it looks like being a warm summer.

Finger Nails May Vanish

The bone-like skin on the tops of our fingers is one of the marks left from the time when men walked on all fours.

The farther man got from his original surroundings, when his finger nails served a multitude of purposes for which he now uses other utensils, the less prominent they became. They are, however, still very useful in helping to make the tips of the fingers firm and in picking up small objects, though it is possible that the time may come when, through constant disuse, man may have neither finger nor toe nails.

A MOTHER'S INFLUENCE

I wonder how many successful people owe their positions to their mother?

Miss Elsie Janis never tires a-talking of the assistance she has had from her mother. Sir Oswald Stoll is another who regards his present prominence to maternal help.

There is a story going around regarding Joe Beckett, who suggests that but for Mrs. Beckett, Senior, he might never have gained the British championship.

Two small boys were having a scrap with bare knuckles, watched by a lady. The younger boy was punished somewhat severely by the elder, and at last had to give up, whereupon the lady strode up and took the loser by the hand.

"Now my boy, that won't do," she said, "you'll have to do better than that. From tonight you'll commence training."

The fighters were Joe Beckett and his elder brother George, and the lady who had arranged and criticised the battle was their mother.

THE MAN WHO WAITED

The man stood there and waited, the embodiment of patience and fortitude.

The wind from the North brought with it stinging particles of snow, and the handsome features became bluish from the contact. It was bitterly cold, a day for crackling fires and a cosy armchair, but the man stood there silent in the darkening street, and waited.

The minutes slipped away into hours, and the smart grey suit became white with snow. The slight moustache held innumerable showflakes, but the hands of the silent figure were too numbed with the cold to knock them off. There in the twilight, and the beating flakes, he heeded not the questioning glances of those who hurried by, nor the steely eyes of the muffled up policeman at the corner.

Still the man waited, grim and white, uncomplainingly.

Then the doors of the shop just behind him opened wide, and somebody in furs and a stylish hat exclaimed: "Have I kept you waiting dear?"

And the man shook his frozen features and gasped, "No, darling."

.. IS YOUR NAME BROWN?

By Frances Cowles

The popular idea is that next to Smith and Jones the most usual name among folk of British extraction is Brown.

Smith, Jones, Brown and Robinson—that is the way we usually think of the usual names. But, though this may once have been correct, it is so no more.

Brown usually comes not before the sixth place in the list, and someone who took the trouble to study names in England and Wales discovered that—after Smith and Jones—Williams, Taylor and Davies appeared before Brown.

So, although your name, if it is Brown, may not be actually unusual, it is not to be classed in the first rank of usual names.

This is one of the color names, and it was originally applied in token of the dark complexion of the man who bore it, just as Black was given to men who were extremely dark and White to those who were excessively pale.

The name has its equivalent in almost every country. France has her Le Bruns in great numbers, and Germany could count many thousands of Brauns. In Scotland the name is also usually spelt Broun.

In every case it was undoubtedly of descriptive origin. There is a disposition on the part of some people to spell the name Browne. In one case a family of the name Browne was derived from a French family of Brunet who were among the French protestants who went to England in 1685. They soon gave up their French-sounding name and became Brownes.

Browns and Brownes have always been numerous among notable men and women. Few names have ever contributed so many able men to the profession of medicine, there having been three very prominent physicians and surgeons of the name.

MILK ADULTERATION SCANDAL

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: I have been hoping that someone would take up the "milk" question but I have waited in vain. This cannot be due to lack of interest for it is probably one of the most vital points so far as health is concerned this city has to face and the sooner it really faces it the better.

This morning's paper reports that a dairy at 815 Gordon Road was fined $100 for adulteration of milk, this apparently being the maximum fine. Is this sufficient to deter milk adulteration? I most emphatically state, No. This particular dairy, I am told, owns 69 animals, yielding approximately close on 700 bottles of milk per day, or to be on the safe side, say 600. The value of this milk is roughly $100 per day and it is a simple calculation to work out what profit 68 percent adulteration of the milk means and to realise what a paltry punishment a fine of $100 is to the owner of this particular dairy.

I enclose a statement which I have prepared based on extracts from two recent Municipal Gazettes of March 10 and April 14, giving details of adulterations of milk from licensed dairies examined in the Municipal Laboratories. Taking the individual offenders appearing in these two gazettes and referring to their past unenviable records I think everyone will be amazed at the number of convictions recorded against certain of these dairies. I have not been able to go through the Municipal Gazette thoroughly and have perhaps omitted certain cases but for all practical purposes the statements serve their purpose and if they are not absolutely correct err in favor of the dairy owners.

Unsigned letters to the press have undoubtedly a value in influencing public opinion but I do not think that this will be necessary in this case and I urge upon those who are really interested in the health of this settlement, particularly those with families to act and act at once, and to put into motion some power which will improve our milk supply and prevent it being utilised as a means of swindling and robbery at the expense of the lives of those dear to us. I have no axe to grind—I do not now buy my milk from any dairy but I do not think foreign residents quite appreciate the condition of the dairies and the conditon of their milk supply generally. In the house the matter is left more or less to servants, householders in the majority of cases consoling themselves merely by close supervision on the question of boiling the milk.

I urge that at the earliest possible date a commission should be formed thoroughly to investigate the entire milk question, consider carefully the bye-laws and every other detail appertaining to guaranteeing a pure milk supply and the general keeping of cattle in Shanghai and in particular provide that the punishment for adulteration or other offences should, after three convictions, be cancellation of licences and not an absurd fine, regarded as it is at the moment, as a regular "working expense" by dishonest dairy keepers. I am,

Yours faithfully,
PERCY FOWLER.

The Value Of Church-Going

BY DR. WM. A. McKEEVER

(Professor in the University of Kansas and an Authority on Child Training.)

A defense of The Prodigal. He followed the call of Nature; was misunderstood by parents and teachers; the home and the school failed to interest him; was forced to learn to work and to live in want; suffered from home sickness and despondency and "came to himself," was converted to see life in a new way entirely.

The foregoing is an outline of a sermon as listened to by a high school pupil and as handed in for credit in his class in English composition. This proved to be a regular lesson assignment. A certain young woman teacher, far wiser than her day, had hit upon the idea of combining church attendance with an interesting form of lesson preparation.

Instead of assigning the task of handing in "carefully written in ink a theme of 200 words on 'The Whichness of the What,'" the assignment was presented in form of a sort of challenge to go and obtain some one else's ideas in outline and bring them to the class room for presentation and discussion.

To the normal growing child, life is a continuous voyage of discovery. But it is futile and often hazardous to expect him to stumble upon every essential part of the field of existence. He must be led in the right direction in which abundance of experience lies.

He must be led into the fellowship of play and athletic games, or he may be cheated out of the best of his soul-building qualities. He must be led to take up the light industrial tasks fitted to his age and the needs of his character development, or he may miss forever the powerful sense of worth and self-reliance which is peculiar to the well-balanced manual training of youth.

He must be led to a discovery of the many sidedness of human personality through the intermingling of many minds and of many kinds through a long series of carefully chosen social affairs. Otherwise he will fail to get into a valuable section of the territory of self-discovery.

Now, apply the foregoing plan of youthful direction to the matter of church attendance. Think of this, too, as a fundamental need of the growing life as an essential part of the voyage over which he must travel in order to accomplish his own complete self-discovery.

To the high school freshman the world of religious discussion and doctrine lies behind a dark and uninviting wall. Therefore, he must be led to the entrance and must be started on his way through the forest of doubt and bewilderment lying beyond.

If the teacher of any and every class could but realize that the school is not merely a place to turn in enforced written work and to recite lessons "for credit"; if she could plan every lesson so as to make it contribute rich experience and self-discovery to the learner; if she could but outline the work so that every pupil would consider himself as a journeyman upon the great human highway of self-realisation, then we should see everywhere a band of youths prancing off to school as eagerly as if they were out for a frolic at the ball game.

Novelties For Spring

BY RITA STUYVESANT

Smart vests for Spring suits show Buster Brown collars with front panel attached to take the place of the blouse. These vests are offered in white pique, white or cream allover embroidery, especially in eyelet work, wash satin, and val lace and organdy. A black ribbon at the neck lends a piquant note.

Dainty collar and cuff sets are developed in tinted organdy and prettily stitched in gay worsted. A long, roll collar pointed at the corners and cuffs to match is cut from orchid organdy and stitched in lettuce green worsted. An inchwide border is "run" with green, and tiny leaves worked into the corners. These charmingly dainty sets are also offered in peach, yellow, tan, lavender, blue and white, and are stitched with contrasting colors.

Fine batiste collars add a fresh note to one's tricotine frock. Crocheted edge on linen, of a fine handkerchief quality, creates attractive collars.

Among the latest in foot wear one finds gray combined with black in unusually smart pumps. Entirely gray slippers are well liked, but there is a slight preference for those with some black trimming.

Two-tone pumps, showing a front section of black patent leather and back of gray suede, are favored by well-dressed women, and may be worn with either black or gray hosiery.

Shanghai Gas Co., Ltd.

A dividend for the year 1920 of Taels 2.50 per share was declared at the annual meeting of the Shanghai Gas Co. Ltd.; a bonus of five percent was voted to members of the firm's foreign staff, and a sum of money was set aside as a nucleus of a staff pension fund.

The meeting which was held in the offices of Edward Ezra and Co., 14 Kiukiang road, was presided over by Mr. E. I. Ezra, supported by Directors L. E. Canning and A. D. Bell, and Engineer in Chief F. W. Potter. Shares numbering 11,185 were represented.

The Chairman's speech follows:

"Gentlemen: Before reviewing the work of the year I wish to express the regret felt by the directors in the resignation of Mr. Francis Ayscough and Mr. F. C. Butcher from the directorate, the former of whom served on the board for many years, latterly as chairman; the thanks of the shareholders are therefore due to these gentlemen for their valuable work in connection with this company. Mr. A. D. Bell accepted the invitation of your directors to fill one of the vacancies on the directorate and his appointment will require confirmation at this meeting.

"Your chairman last year brought to your notice a change that was likely to take place in the method of charging for gas in the United Kingdom from the illuminating power basis to the heat unit basis. This change, now known as the Gas Regulation Act has passed both Houses of Parliament. The powers of the gas regulation act and the developments of these times have moved the gas industry from its state of normal evolution under restriction into what is a transitional period of possibilities. In the meantime your directors await the application and effect of the new act before any alteration is decided upon here.

"With reference to your business in Shanghai, as you are fully aware, the price of gas must almost wholly be regulated by the cost of coal on the one hand and the receipts from residuals on the other. The Japanese coal purchased for the year we are reviewing, was done so under favorable circumstances, owing to the high rate of exchange ruling at the time. The receipts from the residuals show a substantial increase, owing to the higher price received for coke under contract; the result as you see from the balance sheet is highly satisfactory.

CAUSE OF HIGHER RATES

"Unfortunately owing to the late drop in exchange we have been compelled to conclude contracts for Japanese coal at higher prices for 1921 and as there was no alternative but to raise our charges to consumers your directors decided to increase the price of gas from $2.20 to $2.30 per 1,000 cu. ft. from January 1 last but to await the result of last year's working to ascertain exactly what the final increase should be, this has now been fixed at $2.50 per 1,000 cu. ft. from April 1. The higher cost of manufacture will now be borne partly by the consumer and partly by the company. Regarding this matter it may be of interest for you to know that the price of gas charged by the London gas companies has advanced 121 percent since 1914 while the price in Shanghai over the same period has risen only 46 percent.

"An interesting feature of the report is the expansion in our sale of gas of 3.4 percent. Though small it would appear, this increase is most satisfactory as it has been achieved in the fact of considerable and continued loss in our lighting business.

"The prospects of the company are entirely wrapped up in domestic and industrial heating in all its varied forms, to which great attention has been paid in the past and which will continue to be our main object in prospecting for new business.

"Last year a certain amount of disaffection evidenced itself among our Chinese workmen owing to the high cost of rice and living generally; in consequence, it was considered advisable to raise the rate of wages about 15 percent since when general satisfaction has prevailed.

"The conditions relating to the distribution of gas continue to alter as a result of our business extending in the outer districts of the Settlement, necessitating extensions and alterations in keeping with the requirements. The new six and four inch high pressure steel tubes purchased at a cost of about £13,000 have arrived and will be laid to Jessfield as soon as possible, thereby augmenting the supply much needed in that part of Shanghai.

"Turning now to the accounts the total credit of working account is Tls. 271,123.23 as compared with Tls. 170,986.74 for 1919, an improvement of Tls. 100,136.49.

"On the debit side, taking the manufacture of gas first, the total additional charge is Tls. 18,338.08, the main items contributing to this result are increases in coal and petroleum of Tls. 5,511.80, tons 1,712 more being carbonised, and repairs to machinery and retorts Tls. 12,606.25 due to a complete overhaul to the charging and drawing machines.

"The cost of distribution increased by Tls. 14,233.05, the higher charges under this heading being wages Tls. 2,991.11, repairs and maintenance of mains and services Tls. 11,241.94, due to extra work necessitated by alterations.

"Under management and general charges, the increase in expenditure is Tls. 2,691.62 accounted for by home passages, new office boiler, rates and taxes, etc.

"Turning to the credit side, the amount received for the sale of gas was Tls. 746,993.54 against Tls. 723,976.00 in 1919, an improvement of Tls. 23,017.54 or 3.18 percent as a result of increased sales of gas.

"The receipts from residual products realised Tls. 228,196.89 against Tls. 113,250.50; the increase is mainly due to the higher price of coke sold under contract which brought in Tls. 128,839.37 more than the previous year, on the other hand the receipts for tar, pitch and sulphate were less by Tls. 13,892.98.

"Fitting account shows a decrease of Tls. 2,762.50 and covers the sale of fittings, the profit on which is small in comparison with the turn over, the main source of income being derived from the hire of gas appliances.

"Income yielded a net return of Tls. 983,163.49 against Tls. 847,764.25, an increase of Tls. 135,399.24 as compared with last year.

"Profit and loss account exhibits a net gain of Tls. 235,824.97 against Tls. 133,833.25 an increase of Tls. 101,991.72.

"Renewals and depreciation account remains unchanged at Tls. 120,000.00.

BALANCE SHEET

"Turning to the balance sheet—Assets:

"The decrease of Tls. 551.00 shown in land and buildings account is due to the sale of land measuring Mow 4-2-7-0 near the west end of Ave. Joffre which realised Tls. 5,551.00 and the acquisition of a small piece of land adjoining the company's works measuring Mow 7-0-4 at a cost of Tls. 5,000.00.

In manufacturing plant there was an expenditure of Tls. 23,047.44 on the upkeep of plant, which has been kept in first class condition.

"In distributing plant a sum of Tls. 81,613.02 was spent in the purchase of new mains and services, meters and gas appliances for hire and loan, to meet the extensions, alterations and the requirements of our consumers.

"Sundry debtors stand at Tls. 173,891.96 against which Tls. 124,952.21 has since been collected.

"Under investments the securities held are our own debentures, British National War Bonds and a fixed deposit with our bankers.

"On the other side of the balance sheet no item calls for special comment except perhaps the insurance fund which has been increased by Tls. 4,633.14.

"As stated in the report it is proposed to transfer from the balance at credit of this account, Tls. 50,000.00 to an equalisation of dividend account, a careful policy with which I feel sure you will agree is advisable in the interests of a public utility company such as ours.

"In conclusion I would like to add that the Foreign Staff of the company have carried out their duties in a loyal and efficient manner and to show our appreciation of their services, a resolution will be proposed to pay them a bonus of five percent on their salaries for 1920, to which I am sure you will give effect.

"As you are doubtless aware no superannuation fund exists in this company; your directors after careful consideration have come to the conclusion that in order to protect the interests of the older employees to commence a staff pension fund and with this object in view recommend your approval for the sum of Tls. 5,000.00 to be placed to this fund immediately from the surplus at our disposal."

RESOLUTIONS PASSED

Proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Canning. That the report and accounts as presented be accepted and passed.

Proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Bell. That a dividend for the year ended Dec. 31, 1920 be paid to the shareholders at the rate of Tls. 2.50 per share.

Proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. Canning. That the balance at the credit of profit and loss account, after the payment of dividend, be appropriated as recommended by the directors in their report for the year 1920.

Proposed by Mr. A. M. Sopher, seconded by Mr. C. Joseph. That Mr. Edward I. Ezra be re-elected a director of this company.

Proposed by Mr. J. H. McMichael, seconded by Mr. B. Anderton. That the appointment of Mr. A. D. Bell as a director of this company be confirmed.

Proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. B. W. Liddell. That a bonus be paid to the foreign staff of the company amounting to 5 percent of their salaries for the year 1920.

Proposed by the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Canning. That the sum of Tls. 5,000.00 be appropriated as a nucleus of a Staff Pension Fund.

Proposed by Mr. A. M. Sopher, seconded by Mr. J. H. McMichael. That Messrs. Lowe Bingham and Matthews be re-elected as auditors of this company.
